Revelations Day Spa re-opens in Mechanicsburg after being shut down just 12 days after its grand opening

Mechanicsburg, PA — June 16, 2020 — The past few months have proved to be trying for small business owners around the country, as well as in our community. One in particular, never could have expected her newly opened business to be closed due to COVID-19 just days after celebrating her grand opening. Revelations Day Spa, located in Downtown Mechanicsburg, opened on March 7 but closed shortly thereafter when all non-life-sustaining businesses across the state were ordered to shut down their physical locations on March 19.

Although the situation was grim, business owner Shelley Boulliane remained positive throughout, which was evident through her messages of positivity and hope shared on the business's Facebook page. Boulliane spent time continuing online education, painting, cleaning and renovating, while staff members took advantage of the time by taking online courses on new styling and color trends. The spa offers a variety of hair and nail services, facials, waxing and holistic wellness, including reflexology, stress reduction acupuncture and ion foot detox. The spa was thrilled to re-open their doors on June 12. "We are here to help every person who enters our doors feel a difference, to find peace and a reprieve from the struggles and stresses of life," says Boulliane.

Revelations Day Spa is currently booking appointment and accepting new clients. The spa is located at 17 North Railroad Avenue in the borough of Mechanicsburg. For more information, visit www.revelationsdayspa.com or call (717) 790-9717 to schedule an appointment.
