LifeGuide Financial Advisors offers a higher guided approach to financial investment and planning

Mechanicsburg, PA — LifeGuide Financial Advisors recently celebrated the opening of their new Mechanicsburg location with an official ribbon-cutting ceremony and open-house event.

Expanding from their original Carlisle location, the Mechanicsburg office, located at 400 West Main Street, Mechanicsburg, PA 17055, provides additional office and meeting space for staff to comfortably gather and advise clients. “The building has turned out more beautifully than we could have imagined! Yet the reality is that none of this is imply about the building – it’s about what happens in and through the building. We’ve seen firsthand how stressful, and even relationally damaging, mismanaged finances can be for families. It’s our hope that this building provides a welcoming space where families can feel safe to ask hard questions, share their concerns, and dare to dream about their goals and passions, said Brand Evangelist, Scott McFadden.

LifeGuide Financial Advisors is a Christian fiduciary firm grounded in biblical principles that has helped more than 1,000 families achieve financial peace and freedom. The team of advisors are invested in personal service, long-term relationships, continual learning, meticulous follow-through and purposeful focus for their clients.
