F&M Trust recently announced a donation of $3,000 to Safe Harbour, a not-for-profit organization that provides a continuum of housing services for those experiencing homelessness in Cumberland County. The donation was part of a fundraising challenge in which F&M Trust made a $1,000 contribution to Safe Harbour's annual campaign and agreed to donate an additional $2,000 when 25 individuals or companies made contributions of $1,000 or more.

"F&M Trust is committed to supporting the efforts of organizations like Safe Harbour, which provides for our community members in the midst of their toughest times," said Tim Henry, President and CEO of F&M Trust. "It is encouraging to see that so many donors met our challenge, and we gladly make the additional contribution."

Demand Increases

for Volunteer Mentors in South Central PA.
Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Capital Region seeks adult volunteers for over 80 youth on waiting list across five-county service area: Cumberland, Dauphin, Lancaster, Lebanon & Perry.

Over 80 youth are on BBBSCR's wait list across their five-county service area:

Cumberland, Dauphin, Lancaster, Lebanon and Perry counties. The kids, ages 7-17, are enrolled in BBBSCR's one-to-one community-based mentoring program. Adult mentors, "Bigs," spend a few hours each month with their "Littles," for low-cost and/or no-cost activities.

Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Capital Region believes every child deserves a chance to realize their potential and that some kids just need an adult mentor to help defend that potential.

F&M Trust donation provides equipment, supplies for Career and Technology Center students

Students at the Huntingdon County Career and Technology Center (HCCTC) are learning the necessary skills to prepare for a variety of careers, including automotive mechanics, cosmetology, health occupations, and welding. To complete their studies, the students must have the tools of their trade.

As a result of a recent donation from F&M Trust, 18 HCCTC students received grants totaling $5,009 to purchase equipment and supplies required for their secondary programs.

"F&M Trust takes very seriously its commitment to the communities it serves and the quality of life in those communities," said F&M Trust President and CEO Tim Henry. "We know that these hard-working students will one day become hard-working adults who will contribute not only to the towns in which they live but to the future of Huntingdon County."

The bank's contribution was made as part of the Educational Improvement Tax Credit (EITC) program through which eligible businesses donate to scholarship organizations and educational-improvement organizations to promote expanded educational opportunities for students in Pennsylvania. Area, and Southern Huntingdon County.

F&M Trust's participation in the EITC program, has provided students at 19 schools in four counties to receive $206,000 in scholarships over the last two years.

Doceo, a technology company specializing in copiers, printers and IT services, is moving its corporate headquarters in York, PA to accommodate their continued business growth. Doceo will be moving from its current headquarters at 1499 S. Queen Street to 255 St. Charles Way (right off Route 83).

The new office space will provide Doceo employees with improved workspaces to facilitate internal and external collaboration and communication. The new space is approximately 6,000 square feet and will house approximately 20 employees.

“We are excited to relocate to our new, larger office,” commented John Lewis, CEO & President. “This move represents another significant milestone for our fast-growing technology company. The new space will better accommodate our growing team and enables us to hire additional talent to continue to provide support and service to our local clients.”

The new headquarters will reflect the culture of Doceo and strives to make it a great place to work.

Commonwealth employment is the
KEYSTONE to your FUTURE!

The change of season brings warm days and, unfortunately, spring allergies. Has all the pollen gotten your nose itching and eyes watering? Read on to find out what allergies are, what can cause them, and how to ease your symptoms.

What are allergies?

An allergic reaction occurs when your body comes into contact with a foreign substance, called an allergen (pollen, bee venom, etc.). Your body identifies this substance as harmful, even when it isn't. Then, when you come into contact with that allergen again, it will react to it, causing allergy symptoms.

Symptoms

Allergy symptoms vary from person to person and depend on the particular allergy. Some common symptoms include: itchy, watery eyes; sneezing; runny nose; and congestion. These symptoms may seem like a cold, but allergy symptoms and cold symptoms differ in two respects. Colds generally include a fever, whereas allergies do not, and colds generally last 7-10 days while allergy symptoms may be present an entire season.

5 Tips to Reduce Allergens:

1. Keep windows and doors closed – Restricting the amount of outside air that comes into your home may help those with airborne allergen sensitivities.
2. Wash bedding and clothes – Frequently wash bedding, clothes and other washable items in hot water to help reduce the amount of dust mites and dander in the home.
3. Vacuum often – Vacuuming the carpeted areas of your home can help eliminate common allergens. Don't forget to vacuum the drapes and stairs as well.
4. Change your air filter – Make sure to replace the air filter in your heating and cooling unit. Old filters tend to re-circulate allergens back into the air. Consider purchasing a special filter designed specifically to reduce allergens in your home's air.
5. Take a shower – Shower and change into clean clothes after spending much of the day outside. This will rinse pollen and dust from your skin and hair.
