AM Strategies... for Business Success

Tuesday, June 28

LUNCH EVENT

11:30am - 1:00pm

Some people are wise in their own eyes while others seek to increase in learning. Nothing will kill a great employee faster than watching leadership tolerate a bad one.

Hear from Dr. Tracey Jones, Tremendous Leadership

as she speaks about two imaginary characters in her book – Bridgett and Burnett – who represent the motivations found within each of us, regardless of our age, gender, race, faith, or nationality. This modern-day workplace parable tells the story about those who desire discipline, as well as those who despise it. This contemporary classic gives leaders the sound wisdom, courage, and confidence to do what they need to do.

Dr. Tracey C. Jones is a global leadership expert in followership, self-efficacy, and igniting organizational fires in teams. She earned her leadership stripes early in life, working in fast food, retail, and hospitality. Dr. Jones then served as a commissioned officer in the United States Air Force and a semiconductor and defense contracting project manager. Eventually, she returned home in 2009 to carry forward the legacy of Tremendous Leadership started by her father, Charlie "Tremendous" Jones, in 1965.

Dr. Jones has authored eleven books whose singular purpose is to ignite accountability, ownership, and camaraderie in every age, stage, and life context. Her company also serves to help others by funding local scholarships, homeless shelters, animal rescues, disaster relief services, and literacy programs.

THE FOUNDATION FOR ENHANCING COMMUNITIES

Are you a nonprofit that has been considering starting an agency fund NOW is the perfect time to start!

An Agency Fund is an endowment fund established by a nonprofit organization with the goal of creating a permanent source of funding for your organization and is the only fund a nonprofit may establish on its own. You can depend on this yearly income as either a new funding stream for your organization or a way to continue to grow your endowment by reinvesting it back into your agency fund.

The Foundation for Enhancing Communities (TFEC) will be hosting two informational sessions for nonprofits that are considering establishing an agency fund with TFEC or are interested in learning more about how this fund can help you achieve your long-term goals. Attendees will also receive a digital toolkit filled with resources.

KICKSTART YOUR ENDOWMENT GROWTH
We're giving away $5,000!

Any nonprofit organization that:

- attends the June 7th virtual sessions; establishes an Agency Fund with TFEC;
- and has a minimum $500 balance in their fund by October 1, 2022, will be eligible to participate in a drawing to receive a $2,500 grant to their agency fund!

TFEC will be randomly drawing two winners to kickstart their agency endowment-building efforts!

Summer Sun Safety Tips

SUMMER is HERE - and so are the harmful rays produced by the sun! Spending time outdoors? Don't forget the sunscreen and these summer sun safety tips:

It is summer and time for some fun in the sun. The sun's warmth and brightness can relax us and boost our spirits. The benefits are wonderful, but overexposure can lead to some dangerous health issues. So whether you're planning a trip to the beach, hitting the golf course, or enjoying a backyard cookout, remember to protect yourself from the sun. These five simple rules can help you enjoy the sunshine without risking your health:

1. Wear Proper Clothing

Your clothes can be an effective form of protection from the sun's harmful rays. Some outdoor clothing now carries an Ultraviolet Protection Factor (UPF) rating. The UPF rating lets you know how well the fabric shields your skin from ultraviolet (UV) rays. All fabrics block UV rays, but the most effective have a UPF rating from 15 (good) to more than 50 (excellent). For example, a white cotton t-shirt has a UPF of five. Blue jeans have a UPF of 1,700. In other words, densely woven and bright or dark colored fabrics offer the best defense. Light-weight, loose-fitting long sleeves and pants also help. Don't forget a hat and sunglasses to protect your head and eyes.

2. Use Sunscreen

Apply sunscreen generously and reapply it regularly. The Sun Protection Factor (SPF) measures how long unprotected skin can be theoretically exposed to the sun's harmful UV rays before causing damage. UVA rays can prematurely age your skin, causing wrinkles and age spots. UVB rays can burn your skin. Too much exposure to either can cause skin cancer. Keep in mind that sunscreen is often not applied thoroughly or evenly, and it might wash off while you swim or sweat. It is important to reapply sunscreen frequently.

3. Seek The Shade

The sun's rays are usually strongest between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. If you are outside, find shade from a structure, a leafy tree, or a sun umbrella for protection. Also, try to arrange your schedule so that you can take advantage of the early morning and late afternoon for your outdoor activities.

4. Examine Yourself - Head to Toe

The Skin Cancer Foundation suggests that you give yourself a full body examination every month. Look for any changes to your skin. These changes can be an early warning sign of cancer. Changes include any skin growths, moles, beauty marks, or brown spots that appear suspicious. See a doctor if you have any doubts or questions about your skin. Remember that newborns and children are especially sensitive to the sun. Protecting their skin is crucial. Follow these good sun habits so that you can enjoy all kinds of outdoor activities without risking your health.
